Stylish Sanitaryware

It is a seamless zone in your personal space. Poetry in sanitary ware, which is smooth to touch and to operate. For the very first time ever, Eros pioneers a huge range of one-piece sanitary products that are designed to perfection with the guarantee of grabbing your attention and leaving you with that feel of contentment.

The innovation and beauty that could make your bathroom into your most-preferred comfort zone, is the brain child of Eros which has its roots in Morbi, Gujarat. The year 2008 proved to be a threshold for Eros as it achieved ISO 9001 certification - a truly proud moment for the company.

Multi-talented facets of Eros have flowered into a huge range of colours and styles in the seamless bath suite model. Remarkable is a word that can be easily associated with Eros products. Eros sanitaryware inherits its Italian looks with panache and rare brilliant whiteness. The company has gone beyond style and has actually thought about how to make it easy for you to maintain your bath suite in its pristine glory. Eros products come with a unique coating that prevents stubborn hard water or salt water stains from forming. Not only this makes it easy to maintain and clean, it also saves water.

Water conservation is synonymous with Eros. The company's well-endowed R&D department has come up with the novel concept of dual flushing. Water conservation is a necessity and the dual flush mode is a huge step in that direction.

Quality, style and practicality are three aspects that can be found in a unique combination in this wide product range. All thanks to our in-house experts of the R&D and Quality Control departments.

Armed with flawless products the company has stepped into the global arena in style. Today, it has its own place in the global market, offering a variety of products that have found favour with consumers from all walks of life.
